❖ Website

A website is a collection of linked web pages (plus their associated resources) that share a unique domain name. Each web page of a given website provides explicit links – most of the time in the form of clickable portions of text – that allow the user to move from one page of the website to another.

❖ Conference Call

A conference call is a telephone meeting. Participants dial in using a conference bridge number, which connects them to a common virtual meeting room that can be joined by people almost anywhere in the world.

❖ Sampling

When you offer potential customers a freebie, that's known as a product sample. It's a marketing tactic, particularly common in the world of fast-moving consumer goods (e.g., food and drink), that involves getting a version of your product in the people's hand to achieve a specific goal.

❖ Support Team

A support team is invited to act as a silent supportive bystander to the meeting, who may take notes, act as a witness or offer advice or emotional support to the employee.

❖ Google Local Listing

To provide users with the most complete and up-to-date information about places, Google displays local listing (including business listings) on Google Search and Google Maps, as well as third-party websites and applications via APIs such as those on the Google Maps Platform.

❖ 24*7 Support

Support work is usually defined as helping people who require care to live their life as independently as they can.
